

Hart Will Run; Milliken Bids For No. 2 Spot

By The Associated Press
Expected announcements that State Sen. William Milliken will campaign for lieutenant governor and that Sen. Philip A. Hart will run for re-election set off another interesting week in Michigan politics today.

Milliken, Republican Traverse City businessman, planned a news conference at Lansing where his expected announcement would help clarify the GOP election picture.

Hart, D-Mich., has already been feted at a $50-a-plate testimonial dinner in Washington, with the funds apparently earmarked for his second attempt at election to the U.S. Senate. Hart, of Mackinac Island, began his first, six-year term in 1959.

President Coming
Meanwhile, the Democrats said they anticipate several Michigan visits by President Johnson in the late spring or early summer.

Congressman Neil Staebler, who seeks his party's nomination for governor, said at Marquette the President has been invited to several nonpolitical events but that party heads hope he can include politics.

Staebler said Johnson has been invited to the University of Michigan spring commencement and the Detroit-Windsor International Freedom Festival in July.

The congressman conjectured that Johnson might open his own election campaign with a Labor Day speech in Detroit, following the example of Democratic predecessors.

On the Republican scene, a newspaper poll said former Vice President Richard M. Nixon would be the winner of Tuesday's New Hampshire Republican primary if it were held in Michigan.

Elly "Considering"
The Detroit News said its poll of Michigan showed Nixon would get 31.7 per cent of the vote to 21.5 per cent for Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would get 16 per cent, Sen. Barry Goldwater 9.9 per cent, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith 5.2 per cent, and Harold Stassen 4.5 per cent.

A three-way sparring match over the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate involved Mrs. Elly Peterson of Charlotte, James F. O'Neill of Livonia and Edward A. Meany Jr. of Grand Haven.

Both O'Neill and Meany are running for the job opposing Hart. Mrs. Peterson, assistant national Republican chairman, is considering.

"I can't understand why Elly would even think of getting into it," Meany said.

Mrs. Peterson, asserting a woman's candidacy would be a "great plus factor" for Michigan in the national picture, said

Life Terms In Sinatra Jr. Kidnaping To Be Appealed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Families of two young men sentenced to life in prison for kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr. hope the sentence will be reduced and attorneys for all three defendants say they'll appeal the convictions.

The families and attorneys contend the jury was wrong.

Attorney George Forde, after speaking to the family of 23-year-old Joseph Amsler, said: "They told me the verdict was wrong — that it doesn't change their views, and that the sentences were so excessive as to be beyond the sense of reality."

The other two defendants were Barry Keenan, also 23, and John Irwin, 42. Keenan and Amsler, who abducted the 20-year-old singer from a Lake Tahoe, Calif., motel Dec. 8, were convicted Saturday on all six counts of a federal grand jury indictment.

They were both sentenced to life imprisonment plus 75 years, but first will undergo psychiatric examination. Federal Judge William G. East, in sentencing the pair Saturday, said their prison terms may be modified after the tests are completed in about 90 days at the Federal Medical Facility in Springfield, Mo.

Irwin's sentencing was postponed pending completion of a probation report. He was convicted on five counts, could serve 75 years in prison. He was acquitted of taking part in the actual abduction, for which the others got life terms.

The defense throughout the trial maintained the kidnaping was a publicity stunt and that young Sinatra knew about it in advance. The jury rejected the hoax claim.

Young Sinatra was released Dec. 11 near his mother's Bel Air home after his famed father paid $240,000 ransom in small bills. The three defendants were arrested a few days later by the FBI.

Young Sinatra, after learning of the verdict, said, "The whole business is over with. Let's forget it."

Frank Sinatra Sr. said: "The jury has rendered a just verdict and we are happy that they and the court were not confused by the false statements and innuendoes made during the trial... We hope this will put an end to what was a very painful incident in our lives."

Airplane Rams Chicago Home; Copilot Killed

CHICAGO (AP)—A chartered DC-3 airplane, trying to make a landing at O'Hare International Airport in misty weather, crashed into a house late Sunday night, killing the copilot. The pilot and 28 passengers escaped.

The pilot, who with the copilot was trapped in the cockpit about two hours, was reported in critical condition in a hospital. But the passengers, returning from a day of skiing in Michigan, escaped without serious injuries.

The two-engine plane crashed through utility lines and into a home in a residential district in suburban Hoffman Estates. Six persons in the home asleep on the second floor miraculously escaped injury. They were rescued by firemen and hospitalized for shock.

The passengers, 23 men and 5 women, walked from the plane minutes after it plowed through the rear of the two-story bi-level home of Victor Golubski. There was no fire. The plane did not overturn, but part of a wing was ripped off as it landed.

The pilot, Virgil Provost, 40, of suburban Alsip, was rescued by firemen nearly two hours after the plane crashed shortly before midnight. A few minutes later firemen recovered the body of copilot Daniel Jordan of Gary, Ind.

The plane had been chartered for the trip to Pellston, Mich., by the Fox Valley Snow Drifters, a group of skiers living in several northern Illinois communities.

Test Of Secret Plane Reported

WASHINGTON (AP)—The aviation trade journal which kept the secret of the A11 said today the supersonic jet "has already flown long-range reconnaissance missions over Communist territory."

Officials would not comment for publication on the report in the current edition of Aviation Week & Space Technology. But one of them, declining use of his name, said "The A11 has not flown any reconnaissance missions over Communist territory."

Existence of the A11, under development for five years, had been one of the government's best-kept secrets until President Johnson removed the wraps at a news conference Feb. 29. Defense officials praised the trade journal for keeping the secret of the A11 after finding out about it.

There has been speculation that the A11 was designed to succeed the U2, a high-flying reconnaissance plane used on spy missions over Communist territory.

The Journal said the A11 has hit speeds of 2,300 miles an hour and is the first military plane to sustain a speed of about 2,000 miles an hour.

"During operations over the past two years it has proved its ability to out-fly any defense system now in operational use," the article said.

Aviation Week did not amplify its reference to "over Communist territory" and to air defense systems. The article was not attributed to government sources.

Senate Begins Civil Rights Debate Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate begins its historic civil rights debate today with few members willing to predict how or when it will end.

The 10-point measure, which cleared the House 290-130 four weeks ago and has President Johnson's firm support, represents a broad attempt to advance the rights of Negroes.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana will make the first move soon after the Senate convenes with a simple motion to consider the bill. The motion is debatable and Southerners have said they will be ready to debate it, perhaps for longer than a week.

This raises the possibility of a double filibuster — on the motion to take up the bill and then on the bill itself.

In past civil rights skirmishes, Dixie forces usually permitted adoption of consideration motions after brief flurries of opposition. The Southerners have been reluctant to run the risk of a successful cloture — the Senate's debate shutoff procedure — at the outset.

The civil rights battle is expected to gradually shut down all other Senate business. But leaders said they would not schedule extra-long sessions at the outset, and some committees plan to operate this week.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., has served notice that he will make an attempt to shunt the civil rights bill to the Judiciary Committee once Mansfield opens debate.

But Senate parliamentarians say this cannot be done until the motion to take up is adopted.

Assistant Senate Democratic leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, who is in charge of the bill, told a reporter he is confident Morse's effort will fail.

Former Marine Admits Threats Against Johnson

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—A 32-year-old ex-Marine was held today after allegedly admitting to mailing threatening letters to President Johnson.

Authorities said Norman J. Estes of Nashua also told he had planned to go to Washington, buy a rifle and await an opportunity to shoot the President.

Estes waived preliminary hearing before a U.S. commissioner Sunday after being arrested. He was held for further action.

Nashua Police Chief Paul J. Tracy said Estes admitted mailing three threatening letters to Johnson.

Tracy quoted Estes as saying he received a general discharge from the Marines and had lost several jobs when his service record became known.

New Hampshire Poll Is Puzzle

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A cloud of indecision which could have a telling effect on the choice of the Republican presidential nominee hung heavily today over the outcome of Tuesday's New Hampshire primary.

There was widespread evidence that a significant number of Republicans who will go to the polls Tuesday to mark one of the more complex ballots in presidential preference primary history still are debating their choice.

This highlighted an invitation for upsets in a contest which Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., once was supposed to win handily in a battle with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Though Rockefeller and Goldwater seemed likely to pace the field of five official and two write-in entries, partisans thought that Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, might come up to challenge them.

Draft Age Of 17 Proposed To Aid Needy Youths

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will ask Congress to lower the draft age from 18 to 17 to give his "war on poverty" a chance to aid needy youngsters a year earlier, a official source reported today.

These subjects for the war on poverty, the source said, will be the 500,000 each year who fail the Army's General Classification Test. They will be given a chance to enter special work schools where they will take special education and vocational courses.

This is a key provision in the message on poverty, expected to go to Congress today or Tuesday.

Searching for a practical approach to the problem of school dropouts, the task force assisting Sargent Shriver, head of the war on poverty, decided the draft was the ideal screening device to pinpoint young men who need extra help.

All youngsters must take a general psychological and intelligence test when they register for the draft at 18.

"There are some 500,000 youngsters each year who fail this test," the high official source said. "You know if they fail this test, they're probably going to fail any test, and they're probably not going to be able to hold down any decent job."

"If Selective Service hadn't existed, we probably would have had to create it. It's perfect for our purpose. This gives us names and addresses of persons who need help."

Originally, the source said, Shriver wanted to lower the draft age to 16, but technical problems made this impossible. He added, "that lowering it to 17 gives us a year's head start in trying to reclaim these youths."

The special schools, or academies as they probably will be called, will be similar to the work camps of the old Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) in that they will remove underprivileged youngsters from poor home environments.

But instead of concentrating on outdoor work projects as did the CCC of New Deal days, the new academies will lean heavily on education and vocational projects.

Student 'Orgy' Raided, 37 Held In Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Thirty-seven college students will appear in court today on charges stemming from what one policeman termed a "regular orgy" at a well-known downtown hotel.

The defendants, 22 males and 15 females, were arrested early Sunday when police raided a fraternity dance and rooms at the Claypool Hotel because of noisy conduct.

"What they had was a regular orgy," said Robert Gigure, a vice squad patrolman. "We would have had to get a pickup truck to haul all the beer cans away."

The officer said one student, dressed only in shorts, was arrested as he chased a coed down a hallway. Several coeds were dressed only in negligees.

The charges included entering the bedroom of a member of the opposite sex, disorderly conduct, public indecency, underage drinking and larceny.

One student was seized with a neon telephone sign taken from the hotel lobby.

The male students and their dates were attending an annual statewide undergraduate meeting of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity. Police said about 600 students were attending the students at Indiana, Purdue and DePauw universities and Washburn and Hanover colleges.

An excise officer said he found students drinking at the fraternity's dance. He called police who stopped the dance on the mezzanine and then heard loud noise from upper floors of the hotel.

Gigure said beer cans and bottles were being thrown out of hotel windows onto Washington Street, which carries U.S. 40 traffic through the heart of Indianapolis.

Tracing the noise from room to room, police made the arrests.

It took two hours and a dozen paddy wagon trips to take the young people to jail, where they spent several hours until bonds were made. All were released on bond by Sunday night.

One of the coeds commented:

"That's what I always wanted, a criminal police record. A good thing to tell your kids." I spent the night in the pokey, picked up on sex charges. That slays me."

One man bailing his daughter out of jail said, "I thought she had been in an accident when police called. Thank God it's only this."

College Students Nominate Lodge Over Goldwater

ELLENBURG, Wash. (AP)—Students at Central Washington State College have nominated President Johnson and Henry Cabot Lodge for president in mock Democratic and Republican national conventions.

It took the Democrats three ballots and the Republicans five.

Johnson ended up with 318 votes to 30 for Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, and 27 for Gov. George Wallace of Alabama. Lodge got 225½ votes to 109½ for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Raid Nabs 11

WARREN (AP)—Eleven persons arrested on gambling charges at a private home early Saturday are free on bond for examination March 19. Vice squad officers said they seized a truckload of gambling equipment. Ronald Styke is charged with operating a gambling establishment.

Turkish Force In Retreat As Truce Fizzles

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Heavy fighting resumed today in the port town of Kitima on the west coast of Cyprus, shattering a short-lived cease-fire following a weekend of skirmishes and surging mobs.

The Greek Cypriot government said its forces had launched an all-out attack and that the Turkish Cypriots were in retreat. A Greek police officer said his men would have the predominantly Greek town under control by noon.

A British commander and a U.N. official were reported pinned by Turkish fire in a Greek Cypriot police station. A British spokesman said the Turks had agreed to a truce, but the Greeks had refused.

Indian Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani, commander of the proposed U.N. police force, arranged an urgent meeting with President Makarios and then planned to fly by helicopter to the battle area.

Government sources said the Turks opened fire at dawn without provocation from a minaret towering over the market place. A Greek Cypriot government spokesman in Nicosia said the government retaliated with an "all-out attempt by security forces to improve law and order."

Telephone communications to the embattled town were out, but the government spokesman said firing was continuous and the security forces were gaining ground.

The British said the Greek Cypriot police superintendent of the Kitima-Paphos district, Dimitri Papageorge, had refused to deal with anyone except Gyani.

Papageorge apparently was reflecting the new tough line of the Makarios government in accepting local truce arrangements. The government accused the Turks last week of using the cease-fires to slip into offensive positions before the arrival of the U.N. force.

Gyani had flown to Kitima Sunday after a battle Saturday in which six Greeks and a Turk were killed and at least a score of persons were injured. Most of the casualties were from Turkish fire from the same minaret. The Turks took more than 200 Greek hostages.

With Kitima's market place still a confusion of overturned tables, dead pigs and scattered vegetables, the truce officers achieved a cease-fire and promises from the Turks to release the hostages. After Gyani returned to Nicosia, the Turks freed 37 more Greeks, bringing the total number of hostages released in Kitima to 265.

Work Piled Up In Legislature

LANSING (AP)—A legislature preoccupied with its own future makeup returns tonight to its chambers, where most of the session's major issues still cry for attention.

Last week's State Supreme Court postponement of the reapportionment questions spurred House members to try to freeze their districts this election year.

Sen. William Milliken, R-Traverse City, has vowed to start the Senate teacher tenure showdown tonight with an effort to move the initiative petition to a position for a final vote.

He hopes to stage that vote Tuesday — a day when the Senate schedule also calls for final action on the House-approved aid to dependent children of the unemployed (ADC-U) bill.

Sen. Frank Beadie, R-St. Clair, has had charge of the ADC-U bill in the Senate, and Friday got it past its first Senate debate without allowing any amendments.

Death Payments Rise In State

Michigan families received $174.3 million in death payments from life insurance companies during 1963, according to the Institute of Life Insurance. This was $13.1 million or 8 per cent more than in 1962 and a 91 per cent increase from a decade earlier. These amounts were paid on 83,300 policies last year, 78,900 policies in 1962 and 53,200 policies a decade earlier. The rise in death payments is due mainly to the increasing amount of life insurance protection and larger number of policies owned by American families.

Staebler Plans U.P. Task Force For Campaign

MARQUETTE — Neil Staebler, Democratic candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, has proposed a task force to deal exclusively with the problems of the Upper Peninsula.

Appearing at a press conference in the Hotel Northland here Saturday afternoon, Michigan's congressman — at large said he will name the task force to help him formulate proposals that he will make for the Upper Peninsula during his campaign for governor.

The task force would be one of 27 such groups to be appointed by Congressman Staebler to assist him in various fields during the campaign. Its purpose, he said, would be to compile numerous ideas in connection with the problems of the Upper Peninsula and establish priorities. "I want the task force to help me so I can make specific recommendations when I campaign," he said.

The 58-year-old congressman said the Upper Peninsula "has not participated notably in the upturn in the state in the past few years. This is a strange situation in which Michigan as a whole has enjoyed a big pickup in income — and yet more than 55 of its 83 counties are in a distressed areas category. So we need a little different approach."

Staebler, who operates a fuel business in his home city of Ann Arbor and serves as Democratic national committeeman, fielded many questions put to him by representatives of the press, radio and television at the first in a series of campaign forums he plans in the state.

Fiscal Reform

Among the issues the congressman commented on were: Fiscal reform — "Everyone who has studied this question has come up with a recommendation," Staebler said, but he indicated belief that achievement of fiscal reform is a matter of timing. He charged that Gov. George Romney attempted to achieve fiscal reform "at a moment when there was no showing that the state needed additional money."

Staebler suggested that the recently enacted federal tax cut might further delay implementation of fiscal reform in Michigan. "The tax cut program will increase national income rather markedly," he said. "If it goes to $30,000,000,000, as some people predict, the effect on Michigan will be rather surprising. It would raise the tax taken in Michigan by $94,000,000 per year."

Higher education and mental health — "Gov. Romney set up a blue ribbon committee that came up with a report that rather shocked people because of the amount of money it recommended for higher education — $250 million in the next 10 years for buildings and $45 million in annual operating costs. The Governor's recommendation is approximately only 60 per cent of what his own committee recommended."

Staebler said Gov. Romney "decided he was going to overhaul the mental health administration by hiring a psychiatrist to run things." He said he believes the salary for this post is the highest in state government and "a year has passed and we still haven't filled the position."

School financing — "Under Gov. Williams, 60 per cent of school financing came from state sources and 40 per cent from local sources, largely from property taxes. Today, 60 per cent of the cost of operation comes from local sources and 40 per cent from the state — and the total costs are much larger than they used to be. Property taxpayers are saying they're carrying all they can carry and Gov. Romney says let's push this back to local authority. This brings about a proposal for local income taxes, which threatens a flight of industry from the state. I submit this is moving in the wrong direction. We don't have the fiscal resources to carry this burden at the local level."

ADC-U — Of federal funds for aid to dependent children of the unemployed, Staebler said, "Michigan has lost $10 million from his (Romney's) stubbornness and we're still losing these funds at the rate of $50,000 per day." He added, however, that a bill is now in the Legislature to permit Michigan to participate in the federal program. The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare last year rejected Michigan's program for participation in ADC-U funds on the grounds that it did not conform with federal regulations.

Commercial fishing — Staebler said he has backed a bill which would provide $5 million for development and research in commercial fishing, of which Michigan would receive a share. This should help to stimulate the purchase of fish, which plunged sharply after last fall's botulism scare, Staebler said.

Rail Service

Mackinac Bridge tolls — "I'd like to see a rather substantial reduction — more than $1. The strongest argument for lowering the tolls is the effect they have on industrial traffic."

Rail service — "We have pretty well replaced railroad passenger service, but on freight we should stage a last ditch fight to make the railroads prove their case, and in many instances we will have to say no to proposals to discontinue this service."

Congressional reapportionment — "The redistricting last year was an improvement over what we had, but it was not good enough. There still are some districts with 25 per cent under the average population and others with 20 per cent over the average."

Legislative reapportionment — "Here the problem is the Senate and the new Constitution. The second U.S. Supreme Court case decided two weeks ago makes it very clear that the only principle that applies in this country is equality" (of population).

Sunday liquor sales — Staebler said he opposes a change in the state's Sunday liquor sales law. "I think we ought to let well enough alone. We've got a pretty good liquor setup in the state. There is a very strong dry sentiment in the state, and if the liquor industry starts pushing too hard, it may upset this delicate equilibrium."

Conservation — Staebler called a proposal to have the director of conservation appointed by the Governor "unmitigatedly bad." He said "the moment the Governor takes over in this field, he's substituting himself for the conservation commission, and he'll rue the day" because no Governor has time to involve himself so directly in scores of conservation issues.

Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore — Staebler said there is "some chance" of getting the Pictured Rocks built through Congress in the coming year. It would establish a national "park area" in Alger County.

Staebler departed from direct answering of newsmen's questions on some occasions to criticize Gov. Romney, his probable opponent in the gubernatorial race.

"During the middle of a serious legislative session," he said at one point, "the Governor is 3,000 miles away vacationing in Hawaii. I'm inclined to say that what we have is a reluctant Governor."

At another point, Staebler asked what had become of Citizens for Michigan, a grass roots organization founded under Gov. Romney's leadership. "As soon as the need for the organization reached a critical point," Staebler said, "the organization was forgotten. The moment the present Governor was elected, the agency by which he got himself into office disappeared."

Staebler and his party returned to Detroit via plane shortly after the 90-minute press conference ended.

Muslim Starts His Own Cult

NEW YORK (AP)—Malcolm X, outspoken Black Muslim advocate of racial separation, has defected from the parent organization to form his own mosque to promote "active self defense against white supremacists in all parts of the country."

Malcolm told The Associated Press today:

"I am still a Muslim...I intend to work on my own among America's 22 million non-Muslim Negroes to convert them from non-violence to active self-defense against white supremacists in all parts of the country. I want it clearly understood that my advice to all Muslims is that they stay in the Nation of Islam under the spiritual guidance of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad."

"It is not my desire to encourage them to follow me."

Malcolm once was considered heir apparent to Muhammad, who makes his headquarters in Chicago. He was head of the sect's New York City Mosque and the group's leading spokesman.

Noted for his bitter verbal attacks on white people, Malcolm was suspended by Muhammad in November after he said in a speech that President Kennedy's death was a case of "the chickens coming home to roost."

Paper Industry Change Stressed

DAYTON, O., "A world-wide contest in costs will take on new emphasis as world trade barriers come down," Howard E. Whitaker, chairman of the Board of Mead Corp., told members of the Rotary Club here today.

Whitaker, whose firm is one of the nation's largest producers of paper and paper products, pointed out, "This means our paper technology must more than match any other country's and that our labor costs and raw material costs must not offer any overseas competitor an opening or one-sided advantage."

He said that pulp, paper and paperboard are rapidly becoming inter-national commodities—moving back and forth across national borders and continents, and that the international market more and more determines prices and the relative health of our paper economy.

He pointed to two other developments in the American paper industry: increased expenditures on research for new products and markets and trend from a production-oriented industry toward increased stress on marketing—filling a market requirement instead of finding customers for a production capability.

"Paper companies have passed through a postwar buyer's and then seller's market and are just now beginning to make manageable the problems of over-capacity, price weakness and the integration of other industries into paper markets along with stiff competition from substitute materials."

"Ahead," he said, "the prospect is for demand increases to outrun additions to capacity and for more industry-wide consciousness of the need for modernization more than expansion and more research and development keyed to market trends."

Whitaker said paper industry growth and change have been twin characteristics, but that change has often been less recognized. From its original use as a medium of communications, paper has proved practical in one new application after another.

Illustrating one of paper's new roles, he said, "As the new surveyor moon probes take off for lunar exploration, special structures of glass paper will filter the air they 'breathe' as long as they are within the earth's atmosphere. The purpose is to guard against bacterial contamination of the moon."

MUCC Honored Third Time By Wildlife Group

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Michigan United Conservation Clubs again has been recognized as one of the finest conservation organizations in the nation, winning for the third time the "Distinguished Conservation Service Award" at the National Wildlife Federation annual convention here.

The presentation was made Friday in award ceremonies at the Stardust Hotel, host to the 28th NWF meeting.

The plaque, a symbol of outstanding leadership in the field of conservation, was won by MUCC in 1950 and 1959.

On hand to receive the award were Dr. Paul J. Herbert, past president of both MUCC and the NWF; Judge Louis D. McGregor of Flint, past president of MUCC and a NWF director; Paul H. Wendler, NWF representative, and MUCC Executive Director James L. Rouman.

Newly appointed Conservation Commissioner Robert C. McLaughlin was among those selected to receive a "Regional Conservation Service Citation" for outstanding service in the field. McLaughlin, who served as the chairman of Gov. Romney's Special Conservation Study Committee, was unable to attend the meeting and presentation of the award will be made at MUCC's annual convention in June at Kalamazoo.

Rusch Candidate For Reelection

George W. Rusch of 608 S. 8th St. announced today that he is seeking reelection to the Escanaba City Council. His nominating petitions were filed last week. He is presently mayor pro-tem.

His service as councilman dates back to May, 1929, when he was appointed to the Council to fill the unexpired term of the late Harlan J. Yelland.

In the spring election of 1930 he was elected to complete the term, and now seeks election for a full four-year term on the Council.

"I will stand on my record of making decisions which benefit the majority of the people of Escanaba," Rusch said. "I represent no groups; I am committed to no special interests; I am responsible only to my conscience in representing the citizens of Escanaba."

A resident of Escanaba since 1924, Rusch has been active in civic affairs of the community. First associated with Hoyer & Baur Bakery and later president and owner of the Cloverland Commercial College, Rusch is now engaged in industrial engineering at the K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base near Gwinn.

George W. Rusch

He began there in July, 1931, and presently handles the complete planning and programming for all maintenance, repair, alterations and construction of buildings and facilities on the base.

Last year from October through December he was "borrowed" from the U. S. Air Force to conduct production control a management course at Calumet & Hecla, Calumet, Mich., under auspices of the public service division of Northern Michigan University.

Rusch is a graduate of Christian Brothers Academy, Albany, N.Y., received a bachelor's degree from Dartmouth College in 1927. He spent two years in graduate studies at Siena College and Union College in the Schenectady area, and has completed real estate appraisal courses through University of Michigan extension in Escanaba.

He served for three and one-half years in World War II and was discharged with the rank of corporal in 1946. Recalled to service in 1951, he was released after 16 months to inactive duty with the rank of captain.

Now 39 years old, Rusch is married to the former Virginia Hoyer of Escanaba, and they have four sons.

YALE GRADUATE

LANSING (AP) — Sen. William Milliken, R-Traverse City, today announced his candidacy for lieutenant governor as a running mate for Gov. George W. Romney.

"It is imperative that the governor and lieutenant governor be compatible in their views and in their goals for the state," he told a press conference.

"The pressures of the governor's office make it necessary for the governor to assign increasing responsibilities to the lieutenant governor, but this will only be practical if the element of compatibility is present."

"Under these conditions, the office of lieutenant governor can be an important force in the implementation of the far-reaching goals of Michigan," he said.

As a result of the new constitution, the lieutenant governorship candidates for the first time will be nominated at party conventions and run on a ticket with candidates for governor.

Milliken promised a "vigorous, aggressive campaign" and said he intends to "demonstrate the importance and the potential of the office of lieutenant governor."

About Apportionment

Michigan citizens who are confused by the current controversy over apportionment aren't much more so than the officials charged with resolving it.

Apportionment is the setting up of representation of the people in their legislative assemblies, like the state legislature and the national congress. The decennial census decides how many congressmen each state will have to compose the congressional limit. States which lose population lose congressmen; those that gain population gain congressmen.

The 1960 census gave Michigan another—its 19th—congressman and because the state couldn't create a 19th congressional district in time for the next election he was elected "at large", by all the voters of Michigan. He is Neil Staebler, a Democrat, who is now running for governor. A 19th congressional district has been created in Michigan by the Legislature in restructuring of the state's congressional districts, but they are now under question for validity because of a ruling of the U.S. Supreme court which requires that congressional districts must be substantially equal in population.

Michigan's new 19 congressional districts aren't equal "as nearly as is practicable" for several reasons, but the more glaring reason is the new 11th district, which embraces all of the Upper Peninsula, which currently is composed of all of the 12th District and much of the 11th District. The new proposed 11th District, while it makes geographical sense by creating a single congressional district in the one-third of Michigan north of the Straits of Mackinac, makes less sense population-wise, for the U.P. has only 305,000 population and the largest district downstate has much more than a third again as much population.

A three-judge federal court panel at Port Huron has indicated that on the face of it, Michigan's new congressional districting appears to violate the new U.S. Supreme Court ruling. It agrees with Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle, suing to upset a plan whose largest district contains 189,000 more people than the smallest district as not meeting the new test of equality prescribed by the U.S. Supreme court.

It hasn't yet agreed with the demand that the Michigan congressional districts be revised immediately to provide more equal population, or, failing that, that Michigan elect its 19 congressmen at large, a chaotic solution which could throw area representation into sorry disarray. The federal court will act in another hearing set for March 23. At issue:

1. How much deviation from an average population figure for each district will be permitted?
2. What elective process shall be used to correct faulty districting?

The implications of change in the Upper Peninsula are great. Congressman John Bennett of the 12th District had been favored to win the Republican nomination in the new 11th because he retains all his old district strength in the new 11th District while Congressman Victor Knox of the old 11th faced loss of his winning margin of Republican votes below the Straits of Mackinac in the redistricting. But if the new 11th is to include some counties at the top of the Lower Peninsula to achieve a minimum population figure for congressional districts, as now appears likely, Knox is brought into closer alignment with Bennet in Republican strength.

There can be several solutions to the problem and the time in which to resolve it could be extended a month by pushing the primary from August to September. The Legislature could still redistrict for Michigan's representation in Congress in time for the 1964 elections, but it is doubtful that it could solve its parsimony sufficiently to do this, judging by its past performances. Inability of the two parties to agree on structuring local and state government is what eventually brings the U.S. Supreme Court into such cases, despite the warning of the late Justice Felix Frankfurter that it should not enter this political thicket. It is, in the view of some, substituting the judicial process for the legislative in self-government because the legislative process has bogged down.

A major complication of Michigan's apportionment woes, and adding greatly to the confusion about it, is the failure to implement the new Michigan Constitution's provisions for apportionment of the Michigan Legislature.

This is a separate thing and not to be confused with the apportionment of Congress, but the same basic issue of "one man-one vote" prevails in both. The new Michigan Constitution set up an apportionment commission to decide on the state's representative and senatorial districts, but, evenly divided between Republicans and Democrats (Ivan Brown was the U.P.'s Democrat and Ralph Huhtala its Republican member), it could not agree.

The issue then went to the Michigan Supreme Court, which has delayed action on reapportionment of the House and Senate of the Michigan Legislature until April 15, hoping in the meantime to get more guidance from the U.S. Supreme Court.

Five justices of Michigan's high court nominated by the Democratic Party declared that only the U.S. Supreme Court can decide "with ultimate authority" the effect of the U.S. Constitution's 14th Amendment (equal rights under law) on legislative apportionment. The justices believe decisions on the issue are near.

Two of the three Republican-nominated justices, John R. Dethmers and Harry F. Kelly, approved the districting plan submitted by the four Republicans members of the bipartisan Legislative Apportionment Commission. The third, Justice Michael D. O'Hara, agreed to the 6-week delay in action awaiting U.S. Supreme Court guidance, but rejected the major democratic proposal: "One man-one vote."

Q—My daughter, 6, has a nervous tic. What causes this and what is the best treatment?
A—Tics or habit spasms may occur after the age of 2 but are usually not seen until 8 or 9. They are not caused by organic disease but are the result of some emotional disturbance such as maladjustment at home or in school. Expecting too much of a child is probably the most frequent cause. The movements are involuntary and unconscious. Excitement of any kind is likely to increase the spasms. The only

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There is deep concern among some key Pentagon research men that Defense Secretary Robert McNamara made a defense blunder when he rushed in fast to order so many early-model Minuteman and Polaris missiles and nuclear subs.

For new space developments have made Minuteman and Polaris guidance systems out-of-date. We are now on the verge of being able to build much more accurate and reliable missiles. Fewer of these ICBMs would be needed to do the job and do it better. These more-accurate missiles would make possible great strides in military flexibility.

Developments in new types of steel will soon make today's deep-diving submarines obsolescent. Before too long, it will be possible to make subs which can safely operate at much greater depths than the ill-fated Thresher, because they'd be made with the new steels that withstand 50 per cent greater deep-sea pressure.

Discoveries in command and control vulnerability to nuclear explosions call for large-scale changes in these systems. Some of these alterations will be relatively simple, some exceedingly costly to fit into our present setup.

It will be too costly to replace all Minuteman and Polaris missiles and nuclear submarines and command and control systems in line with this developing knowledge, except over a long period of time.

In part, this expense will be great and the results not so good as they might be because McNamara's extremely heavy investment in missile silos and missile submarines means that the next generation of long-range missiles will be in great measure be limited to those types which can be mated with these silos and submarines.

New research on methods of "hardening" the electronic components of ICBMs against the electromagnetic pulse sent out by nuclear explosions makes it clear that the best comprehensive hardening systems require somewhat different silo configurations than those McNamara has invested in so heavily.

Military men say there was no defense urgency which required McNamara to hurry so fast to build so many missiles and submarines so quickly.

By the time he had been in office a week, he knew that there was no "missile gap." By the end of 1961, it was clear the Russians were not going to make large numbers of intercontinental missiles in the years immediately ahead.

McNamara also knew from the time he took office that because of the fast pace at which scientific research was moving, any major missiles he built would become obsolescent before they were even in their silos, these research men say.

McNamara had before him the example of the Germans, who lost the Battle of Britain, and the Russians, who lost the air battles over Korea, because they settled too soon on producing in large numbers planes that were obsolescent when they were most needed.

For these reasons, the research men think McNamara should have bought ICBMs and nuclear submarines, a few at a time, as one with the Atlas and Titan.

They feel that if McNamara had gone at this expansion slowly, where he went fast, and had spent less on hardware and more on research, the U. S. strategic position would have been stronger in the remainder of the 1960s.

Your Income Tax Return

Q — My husband won a television set in a sales contest where he works. Do we have to pay income tax on this prize?

A — Television sets and other prizes won during sales contests are considered compensation for services rendered. They are included in income at their fair market value. Fair market value is generally the price which the television set could have been sold for at the time the prize was received. On Form 1040 the value should be shown in Part V of Supplemental Schedule B.

Q — I received Workmen's Compensation benefits and proceeds from a life insurance policy as a result of the death of my husband. Do I pay tax on these items?

A — Gifts, bequests, inheritances, or proceeds from a life insurance policy paid by reason of death are not taxable. If the principal property received, later produces taxable income, that income is taxable to you in the year received.

Q — My employer requires me to use my automobile in my employment. He pays me a flat amount each month and does not require me to account for my expenses. In 1963 the amount that I received from my employer equaled my expenses. Do I have to account for this on my tax return?

A — Yes, since you do not make an accounting to your employer, you are required to report reimbursements and actual expenses as follows:

- (1) Answer the questions on Page 2 of Form 1040 regarding business expenses; and
- (2) Attach to your return a schedule showing the total amount of the reimbursement and listing separately all the expenses paid by you. Form 2106 may be obtained for this purpose from your local Internal Revenue Service office.

Additional information can be found in the 1040 instruction booklet.

QUESTION: In 1963 I sold 100 shares of stock at a $1,200 loss. I notice on Schedule D that there is a limitation of $1,000 for losses. Does this mean I lose the extra $200 entirely?

ANSWER: No. You should claim a $1,000 loss on your 1963 return and the remaining $200 loss can be carried over to your 1964 return as a capital loss carryover. The Internal Revenue laws provide that when a capital loss occurs in any one year it is deductible with certain limitations which are shown on Line 11 of Schedule D. Any capital loss not used this year may be used, with limitations, over the next five years.

QUESTION: During the year, my only income was $3,000 from rent. After deducting depreciation and expenses only $580 remained from the receipts. I am single and less than 65 years old. Am I required to file an income tax return?

ANSWER: You are required to file an income tax return. Any person under 65 years of age must file a tax return, if his gross income is $600 or more. When income is from rents, the amount of gross receipts determines, if the gross income test is met, and the gross receipts were $3,000 in this case.

QUESTION: Last year due to a broken arm I was out of work for about three weeks. My employer told me I do not have to pay income tax on the amount of wages I received during this period. Is this correct?

ANSWER: Since you were absent from work due to an injury, you are entitled to a sick pay exclusion. This exclusion is limited to $100 per week or the actual weekly amount received whichever is less.

To claim a sick pay exclusion you must file the Form 1040 showing the exclusion on line

Mail Is Against Her, 100 To 1

Dear Ann Landers: I speak for millions of teen-agers when I say your advice to "Persecuted" was lousy. She is a girl who got whammed across the backside by that moron kid in the school corridor. The indignant young lady retaliated by jabbing him with the sharp end of her compass.

Instead of saying "Hooray for you, Doll," you gave her heck and let HIM off. What should she have done, turned around and said, "Thank you?"

I believe "Persecuted" reacted in a normal way. Yet you recommended no punishment for him—only for her.

I'm disappointed in you. My mother is, too.—MISS INDIGNANT

Dear Miss Indignant: The mail is running 100 to 1 against me. I have not received such a lambasting since I told American wives to iron their bedsheets. Read on:

Dear Ann Landers: Your answer to "Persecuted" was unjust. I know what I am talking about because something similar happened to me.

Last June I was standing on the pier. I bent down to help my little brother out of the water. A fresh kid came by and gave me a crack across the backside. I had on a wet bathing suit and the wallop really did sting. I swung around and pushed the nut right into the water—shoes, eye glasses, wrist watch and all.

My parents heard about it almost immediately and said, "We're proud of you!" They agreed a boy who would be so crude deserved what I gave him.—SWEET 16

And then there was this letter from Shawnee Mission, Kansas:

Dear Ann Landers: I usually agree with you, but I certainly did not like your answer to 3, page 1. In addition, attach Form 2440, or a statement showing your computation and indicating the period of absence, nature of sickness or injury, and whether hospitalization.

Form 2440 may be obtained at your local Internal Revenue service office.

Your instruction booklet should be referred to in the event of an absence due to illness, as opposed to injury, since additional limitations apply.

QUESTION: Why is it so important for me to enter my social security number on my federal income tax return?

ANSWER: Starting with the 1962 returns, social security numbers are also Taxpayer Identification Numbers. These identification numbers will be used in processing returns through the automatic data processing equipment newly installed by the Internal Revenue Service.

QUESTION: I am 66 years of age. In 1963 I had income of $247.00 in interest, $700.00 from a company pension plan to which I made no contributions, and $1,392.00 in social security benefits. Must I file a federal income tax return?

ANSWER: You do not have to file a tax return. A person who is age 65 or older must file an income tax return only when he has gross income of $1,200.00 or more for the taxable year. Your gross income was only $947.00, $247.00 interest, and $700.00 pension. Social Security benefits are not taxable.

For the answer to YOUR question call your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Land Values Up As Farm Crop Income Slumps

By AL SANDNER
Associated Press Farm Writer

EAST LANSING (AP) — How to succeed in farming without really trying? Just sit back and watch your land grow in value.

Michigan farmers this year find themselves in the middle of this paradox: Their income from working the land declines, while the land itself boosts their net worth.

Agricultural economist John Ferris of Michigan State University predicts that in 1964, "Both cash receipts from marketing and government payments will be down."

"Farm production expenses will continue their upward trend — putting a further squeeze on Michigan farmers," he added. "The result will be less net farm income for Michigan farmers than during the past two years."

End Not In Sight
Meanwhile, the value of Michigan farm real estate continues to climb. It skyrocketed by 350 per cent in the past 30 years, said E. B. Hill, MSU agricultural economist.

The average price of an acre has risen from $45 in 1933 to $210 today—and the end is not in sight, he said.

While this increases the farmer's net worth, it makes expansion more costly and difficult in an age that will demand more and more enlarged, specialized farms.

Since commodity prices have not kept pace with real estate values, today's farmer must produce more to buy an acre of land than he did in the past, Hill said.

He cited milk prices. In the decade from 1943 to 1952, it took the production of four cows to equal the price of 10 acres. By 1962, it took the production of five and one-half cows.

In 1943-47, he said, 2,200 pounds of milk equaled the price of an average acre. Fifteen years later, the price was up to 5,000 pounds.

During those 15 years, Hill added, the price of milk rose 14 per cent, and the production per cow rose 55 per cent—but the price of land went up about 160 per cent.

Much the same holds true for wheat, he said. In 1933, the farmer had to produce 56 bushels of wheat to get the price of an average acre. By 1962 the figure climbed to 106 bushels.

Climbing land values make it increasingly difficult and costly for the young farmer wanting to start out on his own.

But, Hill added, "Michigan farm prices do not change uniformly from farm to farm, from county to county and from region to region. The dollar value of 'good' farms in western and southern Michigan increased in the year ending April 1, 1963; but in northern Michigan, farm land values changed little — or even decreased in some cases. In almost every area, there are usually good buys that may be attractive to the young farmer wishing to attain farm ownership."

Fish Becoming "Educated?"

Fishing License Decline Doesn't Mean No Fishing

By LEE SMITS

Because of a lag in fishing licenses, Michigan should forfeit the title "Water Wonderland"; that's the basis of a threatened lawsuit against Secretary of State James Hare.

Lee Perry, who operates Fun Park near Pelkie in Baraga County, says that Michigan license plates should no longer bear the slogan Water Wonderland. Perry says that unless he is provided with license plates with Water Wonderland he will carry his beef to court. Hare, replying to Perry, says he would welcome a test case.

Perry says the wonderland phrase is false advertising. Fishing license sales in Michigan, says he, have been falling off steadily in the last six years until Michigan has lost second place among the states and is now sixth in angling popularity.

Michigan needn't worry about her status as a water wonderland, with 11,000 lakes, 15,000 miles of streams, hundreds of miles of bluewater coastline. This state will continue to be unsurpassed as a recreational region because of its position on the map, close to the United States center of population.

However, Perry's protest does bring up a disturbing question: Is fishing in Michigan on the decline? If so, why? Are Michigan waters "fished out"?

Some of us had believed, over the years, that fishing declined when the fish population had been reduced to a level that left a surplus of easy-to-get food for the remaining fish.

A much more interesting explanation is now available; Michigan fish are getting to be too smart for the casual angler.

One of the best fly fishermen I know gave a mile of the Pigeon River the best he had to offer, under excellent fishing conditions — and drew a blank. Then along came a team from the Fish Division of the Conservation Department, taking an electronic census of that same stretch of water. Their shocker outfit brought scores of trout to the surface, temporarily stunned, including rainbows and browns worthy of permanent display over the fireplace.

Unless we can assume that all the sizeable fish in a hard-fished lake or stream learn the hard way, by the stab of a hook, we are forced to believe that fish somehow spread the news. Aquarium attendants give us fascinating data about the learning capacity of fish. Captive fish learn what days they are fed, and pay no attention to attendants on off days. They also learn to identify the man who feeds them.

It is a matter of record that the sale of fishing licenses keeps falling off. The list of 1963 winners in the Field and Stream fishing contest doesn't do much to boost Michigan pride. Michigan has one winner in the fresh-water fly casting division and three prize winning trout in the fresh-water open. It is significant that many of the Field and Stream winners came from distant waters, Manitoba, Alaska, Labrador, British Columbia, Northwest Territory. Five of the six winning muskies, including one that topped 64 pounds, came from the Lawrence River.

Lake St. Clair probably has as many big muskies as any similar area of water anywhere. Tom Schroeder, world champion decoy carver whose studio in Vernier's Hotel at Fair Haven overlooks Anchor Bay, says that the 1963-64 muskie season thus far has been the best he has ever seen, and Tom has been around Lake St. Clair for a good many years.

A friend of Tom's Bill Bright of Pontiac, got started three years ago, fishing muskies in Lake St. Clair, with Butch Schramm as his tutor. Bright, who likes travel and flies around the western hemisphere freely, sticks to Lake St. Clair for his fishing and has become a recognized expert. His best score in one day last summer was six big ones.

This about sums up Michigan fishing; plenty of highly educated fish which can, however, be caught by a person willing to put forth concentrated effort.

Wallace Seeks Wisconsin Votes

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Alabama's Democratic Gov. George C. Wallace has carried his states' rights campaign into the presidential arena, entering Wisconsin's preferential primary April 7.

With the prediction, "I'll probably get more votes than a lot of people think," Wallace became the third figure in an election that had shaped up as a test between Democratic and Republican favorite son candidates.

Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds had hoped to run unopposed as a favorite son heading a national convention delegate slate pledged to President Lyndon B. Johnson. On the Republican side, Rep. John W. Byrnes is unchallenged as he heads an uncommitted delegate list.

In filing his papers a few hours before the deadline Friday, Wallace said, "My purpose ... is to tell the truth about the so-called civil rights bill and how it would destroy the private enterprise system in the country."

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

House Trailer Rules Eased

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski said Friday the Highway Department has agreed to modify a regulation that threatened to put several mobile home companies out of business.

The regulation would have barred the transporting of trailers 12 feet or more wide on highways 24 feet or less in width.

It represented "a serious problem," the acting governor said, for some 11 mobile home manufacturing companies located near Marquette, in the thumb area, where the industry is concentrated.

One company would have been forced to lay off 60 per cent of its employees and the rule ultimately could have affected the jobs of some 1,500 people, Lesinski said.

He said the problem was solved by an agreement, reached by Highway Commissioner John Mackie and officials of the companies in a telephone conference, to permit the trailers to be transported between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. on the narrow roads.

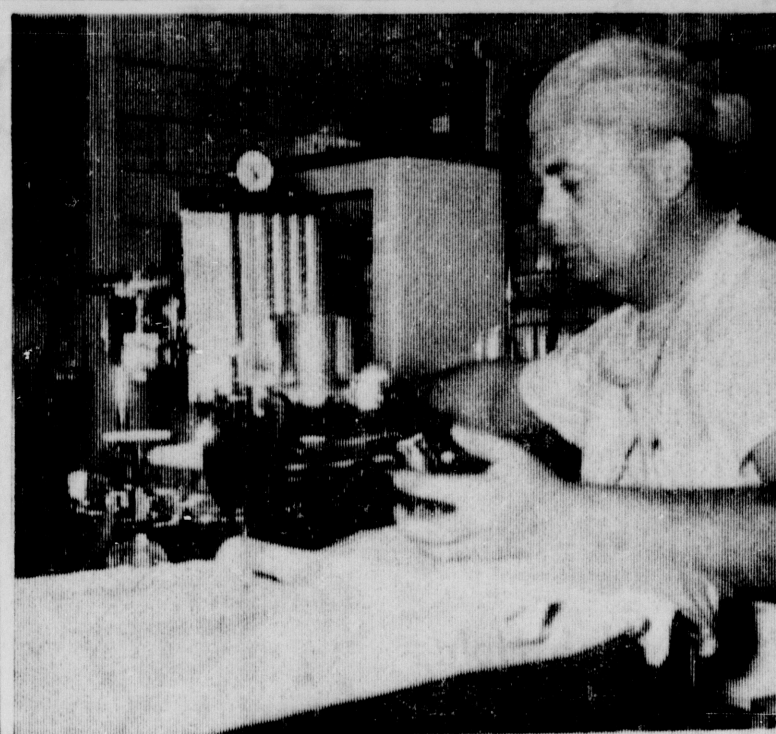

Lesinski said the imposing of the rule was discretionary for the Highway Department under a permissive state law, and apparently was to be imposed as a safety factor.

Previous, he said, the Highway Department had allowed the 12-foot-wide trailers to be transported under permits issued daily to the companies.

Dutch Princess Plans Wedding

THE HAGUE (AP) — Princess Irene of the Netherlands and Don Carlos de Bourbon Parma will be married sometime between Whitsuntide, May 17, and the first part of July, the government information service says.

The service said site of the ceremony hasn't been selected, but it is expected to be a Roman Catholic church. Irene abandoned the Dutch Reformed Church and was converted to Roman Catholicism. She gave up her rights of succession to the Dutch throne. Holland's royal family has been traditionally Protestant.

P T A Organizes Dental Program

The Menominee County Fluoride Committee has set a precedent for the counties of the Upper Peninsula in dental care. Through the efforts of the PTAs throughout Menominee County the summer topical fluoride program is now a reality.

Topical fluoride treatments, consisting of four applications and a tooth cleaning, are now being offered to all children of the county who are pre-schoolers, to years of 3-4 age and second, fifth and eighth graders. The cost of the treatments is $3 per child. The fluoride will reduce new decay by 40 per cent. It will be given in the summer.

INDIVIDUAL ID

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — The Greenwich Library has dropped library cards in favor of any identification a book borrower may offer to prove he is a town resident.

A driver's license, credit card, department store charge plate, passport or birth certificate will do, among other identification. One high school student offered to show a name tag sewed in his sock.

Notifications have been sent to all eligible school children and the fee must be paid before March 13. Any pre-schoolers wishing to receive the treatments must contact their local representative. Much effort has been expended in organization of the program and your cooperation in prompt payment of fees is required.

The Michigan State Public Health Department has appointed Mrs. Ruben Charlier of Nadeau as chairman of the Menominee County Fluoride Committee and Mrs. Lawrence Charlier as treasurer.

Anyone with questions about the program can contact these local representatives:

Carney: Mrs. Barbara Charlier. Nadeau: Mrs. Shirley Charlier.

Wallace: Mrs. Bertil Petersen. Hermansville: Mrs. Loraine Lungenhausen.

Bark River: Richard Chaltry. Stephenson: Mrs. Alvin Williams.

Coats will be a popular fashion item on this early Easter morning. Gilt-buttoned coat (left) is influenced by the military in its dashing spirit, but it's ever so feminine in its soft pastels. Two of the pockets are "pretend," and two authentic. Anglo's monotone nubby wool tweed is used in this design. The elegant reefer returns (center) with a velvet collar. Coat is in flat-surfaced wool twill. Both coats are by Henry Friedricks. Perfect for the Easter parade is this tie-belted coat (right) with dramatic cape effect. This Zelinka-Matlick design is sleeveless.

Coats Are 'In' For An Early Easter

By Helen Hennessy

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Since the March winds may usher in a brisk Easter, coats should dominate the scene.

A spring coat is a good investment. Americans are a mobile people and a lightweight coat is ideal for vacationing, driving, or just brisk walking — especially the new multi-pocketed reefers.

The look for Easter, however, is not one of sporty action, even in the regimental or reefer-type coat. There are fashion subtleties that give it town elegance, such as high-raising lines, gilt buttons, back belts, velvet collars and careful seaming.

With silhouettes soft and simple, fabrics are top fashion news. Flatter in surface than heretofore, they take dramatic new directions in Shetlands, coverts, cord weaves and twill. Ottomans, crepe yarns, airy tweeds and checks will also be favorites.

Capes, too, are high on the fashion list. So are little, short overcoats, with shoulders set in with trim, military effect.

Try one of the new colors for compliments: the bleached whites, pale beige or celery, the bright colors such as yellow or gold; the blues from baby blue through patriotic navy — not forgetting aqua.

There are pinks of many moods — candy, shrimp and, favored again, many versions of shocking. Greens are acid in tone, beginning with pistachio and going through jade and on to a soft sawwood.

You might consider a red coat with your navy dress or do an about-face and wear a navy coat with a red dress.

Easter '64 provides exciting coverage for all of us.

Romney May Cut Vacation

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney's press secretary today said it looks more and more as if Romney will cut short his Hawaiian vacation and return to pressing state business at Lansing.

"He's just not constituted to stay away 20 days during a legislative session," said press aide Richard Millman after a Sunday telephone conversation with Romney.

Romney is scheduled to address the Young Presidents club, an organization of youthful executives, and a Lincoln Day dinner, both in Honolulu, today.

Millman said after these appearances the governor will decide whether to return at once to Lansing. He originally had set a return date of March 18.

Since the governor left the state, the State Supreme Court has announced a postponement until next month on setting new legislative districts.

This sparked a House move to freeze its own districts this year by amendment of the new Constitution, with other amendments thrown in to attract votes.

The governor has vowed an all-out fight against what he has called "wholesale revision" of the Constitution he helped write, but later took a hands-off policy toward the election amendment proposals.

Joseph Rose Of Gladstone Dies In U.S. 51 Crash

Joseph Rose, 22, of Gladstone, was killed and his companion, Paul A. Sidbeck, 22, of Gladstone, was seriously injured Sunday in northern Winnebago County, Illinois, just south of the Wisconsin state line.

Rose was dead on admission to Beloit, Wis., General Hospital and Sidbeck's condition there was reported today to be satisfactory. He suffered fractures of an arm and knee and other injuries.

State Police reported to the Rockford Morning Star that Joseph Rose apparently lost control of his car on U. S. 51 Sunday as he was passing a truck and his vehicle veered across two lanes and collided head-on with a bus chartered by the Central Christian Church of Rockford, which was returning 10 adults and 35 children from a Footville, Wis., religious rally.

Eight of the persons in the bus were examined at a Rockford hospital and one was admitted in good condition.

Rose's car was so crushed in the collision that the Beloit Fire Department had to send a rescue truck to the scene to remove a door so that his body could be removed from the wreckage. It was taken from the hospital to the Sundberg Funeral Home in Rockford and was to be taken to the Skradski Funeral Home in Gladstone, arriving Tuesday. Funeral services are tentatively scheduled in Gladstone for Thursday.

Rose was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rose of 212 Michigan Ave. He was employed in Rockford, like Sidbeck, and lived at 1212 21st Ave., there. Journal Hosts Indoor Meet

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The indoor track circuit makes its annual stop for the Milwaukee Journal games tonight with miler John Camien of Kansas State Teachers of Emporia set to become a runner instead of a rabbit in the absence of Chicago Loyola's Tom O'Hara.

The meet at the Arena has been designated for the second straight year as the indoor championships of the U.S. Track and Field Federation.

Camien, who has pushed O'Hara to supreme efforts this season, will shoot for the mile mark of 4:01.4 set by Jim Greile on the Milwaukee track in 1961.

O'Hara, the skinny runner who did 3:56.4 in the mile at Chicago last Friday, is prepping for the Olympics and chose to pass up the Milwaukee meet.

Tiger Great Gets Honors

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers' most recent Baseball Hall of Fame member, outfielder Heinie Manush, will be guest of honor at the 23rd annual Capuchin Charity Baseball Dinner at Cobo Hall May 7.

Manush accepted the invitation from his home at Sarasota, Fla.

Manush played with the Tigers from 1923 through 1927 and won the American League batting title in 1926 with an average of .378. He also played with five other major league teams, hitting for a .330 lifetime average.

Wall Is Back In Business

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Art Wall Jr., seldom a winner since 1959, when he was named Golfer of the Year, is back in business today after a near sweep of the Caribbean winter circuit.

The 40-year-old pro from Pocomo Manor, Pa., outshot young Jay Dolan in four extra holes Sunday and won the Puerto Rico Open. The victory was Wall's third in four tournaments on the southern swing, giving him the over-all point title.

Wall, Masters champion and leading money winner five years ago, captured the Maracaibo and Bogota tourneys before his sudden death victory over Dolan, 24, of Leicester, Mass., on the new Dorado Hilton course. Art started his comeback—he hadn't won a major tournament since 1960—by taking the $30,000 San Diego Open in January.

His final-round 76, four over par Sunday almost cost him the Puerto Rico crown. Dolan fired a par 72 and charged from fourth place into a 289 deadlock after 72 holes of regulation play.

Each parred the first three overtime holes before a bogey by Dolan on the fourth opened the door for Wall. He dropped his par putt and thereby pocketed the winner's share of $1,200, and an additional $1,300 for his over-all tour leadership. He also was awarded the Seagram Caribbean Trophy, won by George Knudson of Toronto a year ago.

Veteran Sports Writer Is Dead

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Homer Dunham, regarded as the dean of American college sports publicists after spending a half-century in that field, died in Bronson Hospital Sunday night. He was 73.

Dunham, cited by his U.S. colleagues in 1962, was sports information director for Western Michigan University from 1929 until 1960 when he retired. Previously he served in the same capacity at Alma College.

Patterson Asks For Title Shot

NEW YORK (AP)—Fight promoter Al Bolan has an offer out guaranteeing Cassius Clay $750,000 to risk his heavyweight title against former champion Floyd Patterson.

He also has a "no thank you" note on the way.

At least, that's the word from Bill Faversham, Clay's manager.

"Not interested," Faversham snapped when contacted in Louisville, Ky., after Bolan said he had wired the offer to the new champion and his manager Sunday night.

Patterson, Faversham continued, "is a very nice young man but probably one of the most heavyweight champions." Patterson, as usual, was not immediately available for comment.

Bolan, however, said the 29-year-old two-time heavyweight boss wanted the fight so badly he was willing to sign for the bout without a purse.

"That's one of the reasons I am able to offer Clay so much," he said, and added that "it's the largest guarantee ever offered a fighter."

The promoter, who had a hand in Patterson's last five title fights, said he made the offer.

Patterson, 22-5, beat North Texas 90-83, beat Drake 58-50, 6. Oregon State, 25-3, did not play.

7. Villanova, 22-3, beat Seton Hall 109-73.

8. DePaul, 21-3, lost to Bowling Green 89-80, beat Dayton 79-73.

9. Chicago Loyola, 20-5 beat Ohio Univ. 103-87.

10. Davidson, 22-4, did not play, season completed.

RUNNING RON—Ron Clark of Australia smashes the world indoor three-mile mark with 13 minutes, 18.4 seconds in the National Amateur Athletic Union Indoor Track and Field Championships at Madison Square Garden in New York. That's Pete McArdle of New York coming in second.

Most Favorites Survive District Tourney Action

By The Associated Press

Some 140 surviving schoolboy basketball teams begin another grueling week of competition Tuesday in pursuit of four state titles.

Regional tournaments will be held at 32 sites, with quarter-finals a week from Wednesday. The survivors, four teams from each class, will move on to East Lansing for the semifinal and final rounds March 21-22.

Most of the favorites remained in the battle, having survived a week of district tourney play which began with more than 740 teams.

Two defending champions, Ferndale in Class A, and New Buffalo in Class B, already have been eliminated, however. Only defending Class B champion River Rouge and reigning Class D king Britton-Macon remain.

District play at 110 centers wound up Saturday with two more top contenders biting the dust.

Hudsonville Unity Christian, third-ranked Class B team in the final Associated Press poll, and Class D power Mass were ousted in Saturday night's district finals. Hudsonville stunned Unity Christian 81-65, and ninth-ranked Baraga knocked off eighth-ranked Mass 38-37.

Class A pre-tourney favorite Lansing Sexton eliminated Lansing Everett 80-54, and four other "A" contenders moved into regional action with victories. Albion edged Jackson Parkside 56-50, Grand Rapids South whipped Grand Rapids Christian 72-66 and Detroit Northerly ousted Detroit Central 49-40.

Perennial Class B power River Rouge cut down River Rouge Lourdes 88-55 behind Willie Betts' 27 points and 20 rebounds. In other Class B games, Allegan edged Wayland 78-75, Flint St. Michael knocked off Flint Hamady 86-66, Sandusky nipped Caro 64-59, and Saginaw Buena Vista bounced Ithaca 70-64.

In a big Class B upset, Stambaugh's Torgor Omdahl netted 32 points to lead his club to a 66-60 victory over Ironwood.

Grosse Pointe St. Paul — the

"C" favorite—whipped St. Clair Shores St. Gertrude 56-31 and Gallien stretched its unbeaten string to 19 by crushing defending Class C state champion New Buffalo 93-51.

Detroit St. Charles ousted Detroit Annunciation 72-36, Akron-Fairgrove blitzed Bay City St. Joseph 69-55, Addison toppled

Adrian Catholic Central 77-58, Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart defeated Harrison 56-40, and New Haven's Larry Belt scored 30 markers to lead his club to a 73-35 victory over Mount Clemens St. Louis. Wakefield came from behind to trip Ontonagon 45-42.

In another high-scoring effort, Summerfield's Lyn Fisher notched 40 points to spark his team past Whiteford 89-61.

Class D favorite Port Huron St. Stephen moved along with an 81-45 victory over Dryden.

In other Class D tilts, Bloomingtondale ousted Schoolcraft 72-67, Saginaw St. Joseph defeated Saginaw Holy Rosary 64-59 behind Bob Ribble's 32 points, and several Upper Peninsula stalwarts won district titles.

Carney edged Felch 54-45 and now stands 20-1. Pickford ousted Detroit 84-75 with the Bennin brothers, Chuck (25) and John (24), combining for 49 points.

And Negaunee St. Paul, runner-up to Britton-Macon last year, moved on with a 71-44 victory over Channing. Dominick Jacobetti sparked St. Paul with 34 points.

In a final Class D thriller, Burr Oak edged Centerville 63-60 in overtime as Gene Haskins hit all seven points in the extra session.

Newsome Seeks Olympic Berth

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Western Michigan's high scoring Manny Newsome is bidding for a spot on the U.S. Olympics basketball team.

Newsome's acceptance of an invitation to represent the NCAA in the trials starting this month was announced Sunday. He was chosen to a 30-man squad by a committee of the National Association of Basketball Coaches headed by Henry Iba of Oklahoma State, Olympic coach, and Adolph Rupp of Kentucky.

The squad, to be divided into three 10-man units, will assemble at the University of Kentucky March 23. The final trials will be April 2-4 at St. John's University at Jamaica, N.Y.

Ramblers Begin Title Defense

CHICAGO (AP)—All Chicago Loyola's Ramblers must do for a successful defense of their national collegiate basketball title is run a probable gauntlet of the country's four top teams.

"We think we're as good as anybody," said Rambler Coach George Ireland today in contemplating possible showdowns, in order, against nationally second-ranked Michigan, third Duke and top-ranked UCLA.

Loyola begins its NCAA defense Tuesday night against champion Murray State of the Ohio Valley Conference at Evanston, Ill., and Ireland is putting first things first.

"Like the coaching code says, we'll play 'em one at a time, and you only get one shot in this thing," said Ireland, whose ninth-ranked Ramblers finished with a 20-5 record.

An Evanston triumph over Murray State would take Ireland's Ramblers to Minneapolis for a Friday night meeting with Michigan, which captured the Big Ten berth in the Midwest Regional.

The Michigan - Loyola winner probably will face Kentucky in the Midwest title game at Minneapolis Saturday night.

The survivor at Minneapolis goes to the March 20 NCAA semifinals at Kansas City against champion of the East Regional at Raleigh, N.C., which figures to be Duke.

It was the semifinal and final NCAA rounds at Louisville that Loyola caught fire last year. The Ramblers spanked Duke 94-75 and the following night rallied to dethrone favored Cincinnati 60-58 in overtime.

This year's lower bracket finalist at Kansas City is expected to be unbeaten UCLA, whose high point in a 25-0 season was a 98-80 conquest of Michigan in the Los Angeles Classic in December.

Stephenson Defeats Flivvers In Finale

STEPHENSON—The Stephenson Eagles climaxed their sensational season comeback here Saturday night by whipping Kingsford 76-59 for the Class B district tournament championship.

Coach Guss Lord's Eagles will advance to the Upper Peninsula regional at Northern this weekend with a record of 10 victories in 19 starts. However, they lost seven of their first nine games and now have won seven of their last eight.

The teams were red hot in the first quarter which ended in a 25-25 deadlock.

However, some developments in that period had a big bearing on the eventual outcome of the game. While Craig Sundquist triggered Stephenson's early attack with 12 points, Kingsford was led by Paul Santoni with 11.

Santoni was in early foul trouble and Coach Gordy Farrag was unable to get him out of action in time to save him for late use. The Flivver scoring ace drew his fifth foul going for a rebound off a missed Stephenson free throw late in the first period.

Ron Graves took over where Sundquist left off as the Flivvers concentrated their defenses on Dave Bush and Jim Dougovito. Graves canned three field goals and two free throws as the Eagles jumped into a 43-34 lead at halftime.

Sundquist found the range for another nine points in the third quarter as the Eagles moved out

Carney Snares First District Tourney Crown

KINGSFORD — The Carney Wolves captured the first district basketball championship in the school's history here Saturday night, surging in the final four minutes to defeat Felch 54-45 in the Class D finals at the Dickinson Armory.

Coach Bob Kuntze's cagers ran their record to 20-1 entering this week's Upper Peninsula regional tournament at Northern Michigan University. Other Class D quintets competing at Northern will be Negaunee St. Paul, Baraga and Ewen.

The Wolves ripped out to a 19-7 lead in the first quarter but then sputtered in the second frame to see their margin dwindle to 25-19 at the half. Carney held a 43-35 cushion entering the final period.

Coach Carl Lemm's Felch cagers rallied early in the fourth period and twice pulled a point ahead of the faltering Wolves, but both times Carney came back with a bucket to regain the lead.

In the closing minutes the Forresters fouled in an effort to get possession and picked the wrong player. Jim Haight tossed in four of five free throw attempts as Carney pulled steadily away in the stretch. Haight made 11 of 12 from the line in the entire game.

The game was not one of Carney's best this season. In fact, the Wolves shot at only a 35 per cent pace from the field, hitting on 19 of 54 shots. That was their second lowest percentage of the campaign and the 54 points was their second lowest output of the year.

Haight topped all scorers with 23 points and had 13 rebounds along with Cliff Perras. Bob Macco contributed 14 points and grabbed 10 rebounds.

For Felch, Carl Steele set the pace with 16 points including 10 of 11 free throws. Gary Blomquist also reached double figures with 14 points.

Carney scored on 16 of 30 gift tosses and Felch converted 11 of 19.

Michigan Eyes Sole Possession

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan's second ranked Wolverines, already having assured themselves of an NCAA tournament berth, aim for their first Big Ten basketball title in 16 years tonight.

The powerful Wolverines came from behind Saturday night and defeated Iowa at Iowa City 69-61 while Michigan State pulled a major upset by knocking off Ohio State at Columbus, 81-80, on Pete Gent's winning basket with eight seconds to play.

This assured Michigan of no less than a share of the Big Ten title and the NCAA berth. Now the Wolverines must defeat Purdue to win the undisputed conference crown.

Should Michigan lose to Purdue, Ohio State will share the title and set a record of five consecutive conference titles.

Until Gent's winning basket, it had been a great comeback season for the Buckeyes. They lost two of their first five games before All-America Gary Bradds began an assault on conference scoring records. Ohio State then won seven straight before stumbling against Michigan State.

Bradds concluded the season with a 31-point performance and a 33.8 average for the campaign, erasing the mark of 32.8 set by Terry Dischinger of Purdue in 1962.

Bradds' 735 points for the season eclipsed the Buckeye record of 723 by Robin Freeman in 1956 and his total of 174 field goals in Big Ten competition surpassed the record of 163 by Freeman.

Although the Wolverines will be at home tonight, Purdue will be a tough customer to handle.

The Boilermakers, led by sophomore Dave Schellhase's 30 points, came up with a 76-73 triumph at Northwestern Saturday night. A victory over Michigan would assure Purdue, which finished in the basement last year, a fourth place tie with Michigan State.

Other games closing out the Big Ten season Monday night find Iowa at Illinois and Northwestern at Indiana.

Illinois defeated Wisconsin 97-73 Saturday and Minnesota clinched third place with a 90-89 triumph over Indiana on Archie Clark's winning goal in the final second.

Marquette Retains Class A Cage Crown

Paul Albright, a 6 foot 3 inch junior, emerged from the shadow cast by 6 foot 6 inch senior Bruce Forstrom Saturday night to lead Marquette to an 80-63 triumph over Menominee in the Class A district championship game.

Albright made the difficult task of firing a basketball through the hoop look as easy as a kid dropping marbles through a manhole.

He served early notice on the upset-minded Maroons by pitching in four straight shots in the first quarter and never slackened off the pace to finish with 30 points for the night.

It wasn't as easy for the Redmen, however, as the final score would seem to indicate. Coach Harvey Filppula's scrappy Menominee team, which had dunned favored Soo out of competition the previous night, battled the Redmen tooth and nail through most of the game.

Menominee staged rally after rally and finally pulled to within five points, 66-61, with three and a half minutes remaining in the game. The Maroons ran out of gas at that point and Marquette scored 14 straight points to make it look like a runaway.

Although forced into a supporting role in the scoring department, Forstrom was the leading man for the Redmen in the vital rebounding phase of the game. He plucked the ball off both boards like a thief in an apple orchard.

Forstrom also kept up a steady bombardment at the nets from close range and came up with 18 points on seven field goals and four free throws. Husky guard Jerry Perttunen, a junior, scored in double figures with 12 points.

Menominee, appearing to tire in the late stages of the contest after the rugged battle they waged against Soo Friday night, was paced in scoring by Rich Dufresne with 20 points. Tim Rosemyer chipped in 12 and stubby guard Bill Schmanz 11.

Jim Uecke, slick operating sophomore center who starred in the victory over Soo, had

Eben Eagles Trip Trenary For 'D' Title

ROCK — Andy Freberg, a 6 foot 2 inch junior who paced Eben in scoring during the regular season, continued his role in the Class D district tournament finals here Saturday night as the Eagles edged Trenary 39-33.

Not only did Freberg score 20 points for more than half of his team's output, he scored the six points that provided the margin of victory.

Those half a dozen tallies came in the final minute and 46 seconds of the contest after the score was tied 33-33.

Coach Jim Depew, in his first year at the Eben helm, will take his Eagles to the regional tournament at St. Ignace this week.

Both teams played a cautious game in the finals with Freberg and Bill Carlson dominating the rebound department and giving the smaller Comets only one shot at a time. The Eagles set up their plays carefully and they pressed Trenary off and on through the contest.

Eben took a slim 11-9 lead in the first period and clung to a 19-18 edge at halftime. Both teams hit eight points in the third period.

With the score tied at 33-33, Freberg drove in for a layup with 1:46 remaining. Trenary failed to connect and the Eagles maintained control until Freberg slipped in for another two-pointer with 28 seconds remaining to spread the margin to 37-33. He was fouled with one second remaining in the game and added the final two points from the free throw line.

Carlson followed Freberg in the Eben scoring column with

Michigan Wins In All Sports

By The Associated Press

Michigan's year? You bet it is. Not only is Michigan going to represent the Big Ten in the NCAA basketball tournament but the Wolverines all but dominated the weekend scene in the conference winter championships.

Michigan captured the track, wrestling and gymnastics titles and finished second to powerful Indiana in swimming. Illinois won the fencing crown.

Picked to finish second to Wisconsin in track, Michigan piled up 67 points to 48 for the runner-up Wisconsin. Michigan State was third with 32.

While Michigan was winning the track title, an Ohio State sophomore, Bob Neutzing, cracked the Big Ten pole vault record of 13 years with a leap of 15-feet-8 1/4. The old mark of 14-8 was set by Don Laz of Illinois in 1951.

Neutzing, a 5-9, 150 pounder, set the record with a borrowed pole after breaking his own pole.

Michigan retained its wrestling crown with ease, rolling up

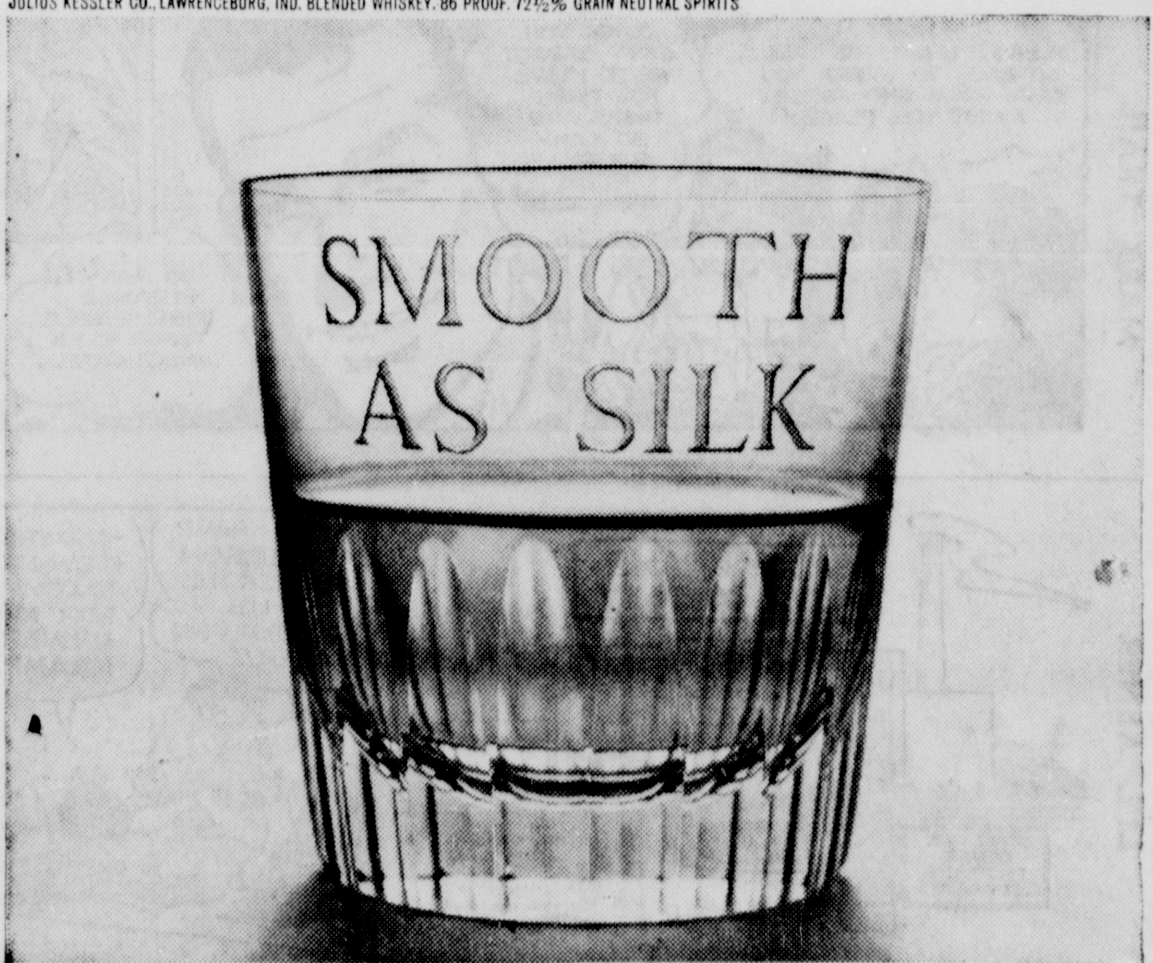

56 points to 41 for runner-up Iowa. Ralph Bahna won the 123-pound title and Lee Deitrick grabbed the 147-pound championship.

Taking all three places in the final tumbling event, Michigan repeated for the gymnastics title. Mike Henderson, John Hamilton and Bill Bolton finished in that order helping Michigan to a final total of 131 points to 112 1/2 for Iowa.

It came as no surprise when Indiana won its fourth straight conference swimming title. Diver Rick Gilbert and backstroke star Pete Hammer each won two titles to pace the Hoosiers to a total of 231 1/2 points.

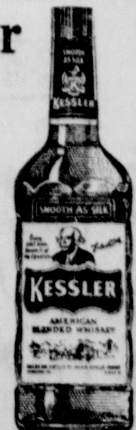

Indiana won nine championships and tied for another in the 17 events. Michigan scored 171 1/2 points and Ohio State was third with 124 1/2.

Illinois dethroned Michigan State to win its fourth fencing crown in five years. The Illini amassed 41 points to finish well ahead of Michigan State and Iowa, who tied for second with 27.

Your Income Tax Return

QUESTION: During 1963 I gave a used washer to the Salvation Army. I didn't think I was entitled to a deduction on my federal income tax return for this item but my neighbor tells me that I am. Is this true?

ANSWER: If you file a form 1046 return, itemizing your deductions, you are entitled to a charitable contribution deduction for this item. The amount of the deduction is the fair market value of the property at the date it was contributed. The fair market value is, in effect, the amount you would have received for the washer by selling it to an unrelated party.

For the answer to YOUR question call your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

QUESTION: What conditions are necessary in order to qualify for "Head of Household" tax rates?

ANSWER: In order to qualify for "Head of Household" tax rates, you must be in a single status at the close of the tax year. In addition, you must furnish over half the cost of maintaining a household for the entire year for at least one relative. If the relative is a parent he or she must qualify as your dependent and live in a home maintained by you. If the person is your unmarried child, grandchild, or stepchild, he or she must live in your home but need not qualify as your dependent. Any other relative must live in your household and qualify as your dependent.

For the answer to YOUR question call your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Q — My 20-year-old son is a full-time student at Wayne State University. During 1963 he had earned income of about $800.00. We suggested that he save all of his earnings for his future. He followed our suggestion and deposited all of his earnings in the bank. His entire support was furnished by myself and my husband. Since he earned over $600.00 we are prohibited from claiming him as a dependent on our return?

A. — You are entitled to a dependency deduction for your son. This is true as long as he is a student in a qualified educational institution for at least five months of the year and you furnish more than half of his support for the entire year. If these conditions are met, the child's age or amount of income will not disqualify you. However, your son must file his own return since his gross income was $600.00 or more. He, of course, is also entitled to one personal exemption.

For the answer to your question, call your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Black Hawks Taking Aim

CHICAGO (AP)—The big bad Chicago Black Hawks are aiming their guns at Montreal next Saturday and Coach Billy Reay feels a victory against the Canadiens could give his club its first National Hockey League championship.

For nearly a month now, every Sunday night the Hawks have found themselves tied with Montreal in total points for first place, but the Canadiens always have had two more games to play, which means a potential of four additional points.

However, aided by phenomenal Kenny Wharram, the Hawks came from behind Sunday night for a 4-3 victory over Toronto and moved two points ahead of Montreal, which played a scoreless tie with New York's scrappy Rangers. In the other game Detroit defeated Boston 5-3.

"A lot depends on what Montreal does," said Reay, "but I can't help feel we can win the title if we defeat them next Saturday."

Wharram scored the winning goal in the final period to break a 3-3 tie. It was his eighth winning goal of the season.

"I'm bushed," said Wharram after the game in which he boosted his goal total to 38, two less than teammate Bobby Hull. While Wharram, Hull and Eric Nesterenko were scoring the goals, Stan Mikita picked up two points on assists giving him 85 for the season, one more than the Hawk record set by Hull in 1962.

Huskies Face Michigan Six

By The Associated Press
Michigan Tech has elected to meet high-scoring Michigan when the Western Collegiate Hockey Association playoffs begin Thursday.

Tech choose to be ranked fourth in the league, thus pairing itself with the Wolverines. Tech could have taken third place when Minnesota withdrew because the playoffs occur during its final examinations.

Second-place Denver meets North Dakota, holder of third. Winners of the semifinals, which run through Friday, meet next Saturday night.

Michigan clinched the championship Saturday night with a rousing 13-4 victory over Michigan State, while the Huskies nipped Colorado College 9-8 in overtime.

The Wolverines tied the school season scoring record of 197 goals, matching the mark set in 1950-51. Gary Butler led the attack with his sixth hat trick of the season. He later added a fourth goal.

The victory put the Wolverines season record at 21-3 overall and 12-2 in league play.

Tech overcame a three-goal deficit in nipping Colorado. Fred Dart scored the winning goal at 3:15 of the overtime. Colorado held an 8-5 edge at 5:11 of the final period, but the Huskies fired in three quick goals to knot the score. George Hill's hat trick sparked the Tech victory.

Crime-Solving Awards Ended

LANSING (AP) — The Associated Petroleum Industries of Michigan has announced it no longer will pay rewards to citizens who help police solve crimes against service stations.

William Palmer, executive director of the group, said the four-year experimental program will halt Sept. 1.

Palmer said the experiment was aimed at gathering data to find ways of reducing crimes against service stations. He said much was learned and more detailed research will continue.

He said the program disclosed that more than half of all service stations have little or no crime of a serious nature and that 20 per cent of the stations experience about 84 per cent of the serious crime — burglary, armed robbery and murder.

Palmer said rewards totaling $13,850 have been paid out to date to 84 persons who helped prevent or solve 66 serious crimes against service stations. At least 62 men have been sent to prison in these cases, he said.

Federal Judges Find Mississippi Voting Law Valid

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi's controversial voting laws have been found constitutional in a 2-1 decision by a three-judge federal court panel.

The ruling came Friday in a suit by the Justice Department which said the laws were shaped with the intent of barring Negroes from voting. The suit was dismissed.

The laws specify that a voter must be of good moral character and able to read, write and interpret the state constitution to the satisfaction of the registrar.

"No provisions of the state constitution or a statute of Mississippi deprive any citizen of the right to vote because of race or color," the majority opinion said.

STASHED FOR SAFETY
CHANDLER, Ariz. (AP)—A bank bag containing an estimated $10,000 was missing for more than 24 hours before it was found in the trunk of a police car.

Police said the bag was one of four put in the trunk when officers accompanied bank employees on a currency pickup from the Federal Reserve Bank of Los Angeles.

Norwegians Mark Centennial Of Seamen's Church

By HELICK O. HAUGEN
OSLO (AP) — The seaman's home away from home — the Norwegian Seamen's Church — is 100 years old this year.

The centenary will be celebrated in Norway and in the 32 ports all over the globe where the churches are located.

High point of the anniversary year will be the opening of the King Olav Chapel in the new European oil port 25 miles from Rotterdam, the Netherlands, on Sept. 11. Dutch shipowners and industrial leaders provided 65 per cent of the cost.

"We have to move with the ships, build new stations where the traffic has moved on," said a spokesman for the private organization running the churches.

Since World War II, 17 new churches have been built, in ports which did not have one before.

The Lutheran churches serve the 64,000 men operating Norway's huge merchant fleet of about 2,300 ships. Seamen of all nationalities are welcome. The churches provide recreational facilities and organize sightseeing tours, sports events and parties. Newspapers from home are flown in. Every ship arriving in port is visited by a pastor. About 40 pastors man the stations, together with lay assistants and house mothers. They are a tough and realistic group.

"We have to meet the men as men, and sailors don't take to phonies," said one seamen's pastor.

The work is financed by 3,100 groups in Norway and by the seamen themselves, but this year Parliament has contributed $142,257 as a centenary gift.

The 1962 budget was $928,000. Local authorities and organizations around the world also help out with the expenses.

On Norway's national day, May 17, there will be celebrations in the first Norwegian Seamen's church ever built, at Leith, Scotland. A general assembly of the organization will be held in Bergen Aug. 28-31. Representatives of churches in the United States, Britain, West Germany, Sweden and Denmark will take part. King Olav V, high protector of seamen's churches, will be present.

Ports now under consideration for new churches include Port Newark, N.J., where the mission owns a plot; Seattle, Wash., and Vancouver, B.C. Construction of a new church in Trinidad will begin this year.

Coot Better Than Duck For Table, Says Prof.

ANN ARBOR — Too many people think of the mud hen — or coot — as something unpalatable says George S. Hunt, assistant professor of wildlife management at the University of Michigan.

"Personally I think the flavor is better than that of duck. The legs taste just like cotton-tail legs. They are absolutely delicious," he says.

"Many thousands of coot are shot each year in Michigan. There must be a tremendous waste. But from the standpoint of providing sport they are important numerically."

"The coot is a waterfowl, using watery areas almost exclusively. It can dive as much as 20 feet down and swims with legs, feet and wings to get aquatic plants. You sometimes see a few with a good-sized flock of canvasback or redhead ducks. When these birds come up with food the coot steals what they drop."

"Many people might have the idea that these birds aren't very good fliers if they have viewed them along a marsh where they fly a few strokes then hide. Actually they are good fliers once they get up off the water," Hunt says.

"The males are vicious fighters with long sharp claws. They will jump up and meet breast to breast, fighting with feet and wings. They even lie back on the water and use their claws to fight. They fight to protect nesting territory."

Duke Of Windsor Lives In Paris, Digs In Gardens

By RODNEY ANGOVE
PARIS (AP) — "Come back when we have flowers and sunshine," smiled the Duchess of Windsor.

"Yes," seconded the duke. "and let me know and I'll put on more presentable clothes."

Dropping in on "Les Windsor," as the French call the most famous residents of the Bois de Boulogne, wasn't all that casual. The picture-taking session had to be arranged in advance through a staff of secretaries. The duchess was prepared, but the duke was taken by surprise.

The duchess, busy in town with social engagements, was driven across the spacious grounds in an American limousine painted British racing green, perhaps to match the green license plates of diplomatic status accorded by the French government.

A uniformed doorman met her at the driveway entrance to the squarish three-story house of yellowish sandstone. A bow-tied porter in tails helped carry her things through the wrought-iron double doors.

In a chic white suit, simply cut, the 68-year-old duchess gamely ventured a few yards across the spongy lawn in her spike heels so the balconied house would be in the background.

The house is one of the few privately occupied properties in the vast park on the west edge of Paris. It is thinly screened from two thoroughfares by fences and shrubbery.

The couple has rented the home from the city of Paris since 1953. The duke and duchess have lived outside Britain since their marriage in 1937, following the duke's abdication as King Edward VIII.

Asked if the duke would join her, the duchess touched her lips with surprise. "Oh dear. He didn't know he was invited. But we'll call him anyway."

The duke, 68, arrived shortly. "Photographs? Oh no, I'm not at all dressed for it," he said, patting his broad, loosely knotted necktie and short jacket of four-inch blue squares, a pattern the French call "Prince of Wales."

"Oh yes you are, dear," encouraged the duchess. "They can say you are in your country clothes."

A devotee of the countryside, the duke puts in his weekends working in the gardens of their rented 23-acre tract. He does much of the actual digging. He still plays golf every week.

The post was created on recommendation of a special study committee appointed by Gov. George W. Romney as part of the reorganization of the department. The post will include some of the duties formerly assigned to A. B. Cook, the fish division chief who recently retired.

Tech Students Train In Detroit Hospital Lab

DETROIT — Michigan Technological University in Houghton may be a long way from Detroit as the crow flies, but to a handful of senior Michigan Tech coeds it's just another corner of the campus.

These are fourth-year students in medical technology working toward their Bachelor of Science degree in June. After three full academic years on the Houghton campus, Tech's med tech majors spend the final 12 months of study and training at one of five Michigan hospitals. They are Harper Hospital, Detroit; Wayne County General Hospital, Eloise; Hurley and St. Joseph's hospitals, Flint; and St. Lawrence Hospital, Lansing.

Michigan Tech has offered a B.S. degree in medical technology since 1956, and is preparing students for their senior year of training, according to Dr. T. L. Jarkowski, associate pathologist at the Harper Hospital School of Medical Technology.

Harper has only 10 vacancies for med tech students each year. The competition for these 10 spots is stiff, and applications come from colleges and universities in all parts of the country. This year, four of those vacancies were awarded to Michigan Tech students.

On a national basis, starting salaries range from $4,000 to $4,600 annually. In the U.S. Civil Service, medical technologists can advance to the maximum grade of GS-11, making $7,560 annually.

The four Tech coeds under Dr. Jarkowski's supervision are Pryllis Takku of Dollar Bay; Patricia Verville of Hancock; Cathy Martinez of Rosita, Mexico; and Margaret Kelly of Calumet.

"How about one of those wonder drugs?"

"I've got a cold," the man said, and he went on to ask for a "wonder drug." The pharmacist sold him some aspirin and advised him to see his physician. As it happened the aspirin fixed him up fine, but the point is this: Pharmacists are not physicians. We work with doctors, providing the drugs and medicines they prescribe. We have a professional knowledge of the powerful new "wonder drugs," so we know how important it is to use them correctly. Please do not feel offended when your pharmacist refuses to sell you a certain drug. It is for your protection and in the best interest of your good health. Always see your doctor when potent medication is required.

Which Mother has the checking account?

Maybe these pictures are too obvious, for it's clear to see that the mother on the left is not happy. Small wonder, of course, for she is making a job out of paying bills. This trudging around town that she is doing is all the more miserable a task if the weather is bad—and it's going to be bad for another few weeks.

So how about you? Give us a chance to prove how helpful a checking account can be. If you pay by check, you will have a far better record of expenses. You'll have more time to enjoy life as well.

Plymouth rocks racing world with sweep in Daytona "500"

According to the record book for stock cars in competition, there is no higher average speed for 500 miles than the 154.334 m.p.h. set by a competition-equipped 1964 Plymouth in winning last month's Daytona "500."

Adding to that glory is the fact that two more 1964 Plymouths finished 2nd and 3rd for a decisive Plymouth sweep. That suggests that Plymouths were not only the swiftest cars in the competition, but that they're built to stay in there all the way.

For the millions of racing fans and high-performance enthusiasts across the country, Plymouth is proud of its "high speed" victory at Daytona.

Plymouth beats Ford & Chevrolet in tests of showroom V-8s

This competition was more "your speed." At Plymouth's request, an independent testing company bought and compared showroom models of Plymouth, Ford and Chevrolet.

The cars were comparably equipped standard V-8s — cars people buy. And the tests were of "things people buy a car for" — acceleration, handling, braking, and gas economy.

In test after test, Plymouth accelerated best, handled best, braked best, and got the best gas mileage. This is the kind of competition Plymouth most likes to win. "High speed" or "your speed," these 1964 Plymouths are tough to beat!
